About DDA

HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY

Award-winning firm DDA is an interior design firm established in 1997. The boutique-sized firm has broad experience with commercial projects and private residential homes in Singapore and takes pride in its sensitivity towards different design needs from a diverse range of clients. Each project begins with an in depth personality study with its client before design options are explored. This results in sensually sculpted interiors that speak of intimacy and identity all at once.

The firm's curiosity has led its design team to initiate and develop several experimental spaces with aesthetic breakthroughs. The team's attention to detail has also led design pursuits outside of interiors and into the realm of product design to realise the unique styles its clients has requested for. Admired by previous clients, DDA has also been invited to design commercial spaces such as Bistro at the Supreme Court, Keck Seng Tower and the Metrojaya - Group of Stores.

The firm is founded and headed by an award-winning designer whose inquisitiveness to each interiors project is a signature that has been adopted as part of designed design's house style. Today, the firm provides a holistic range of services including space planning, design conceptualization, project construction and management to a diversity of clients from regional countries such as Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, Indonesia and the Philippines.
